Shops report a huge increase in food thefts

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsexnews.co.uk

THEFTS of food from shops in Harlow have rocketed, according to figures released by police.

Last year there were more than 2,752 recorded incidents in Essex of people stealing food items compared to 2,290 in 2012 - an increase of 20 per cent.

However, in Harlow the figure rose by a whopping 39 per cent, with 358 reported offences compared to 257 in 2012. Only Southend (44 per cent) had a bigger increase.

Basildon (30 per cent) and Colchester (23 per cent) also reported higher than average rises while in the police district covering Epping there was a drop in the number of cases, with 171 in 2013 compared to 177 in 2012.

The figures were released following a Freedom of Information Act request.

Harlow Foodbank, which provides support for people at times of crisis, said referrals had risen by 67 per cent over the past 12 months.

Spokesman Gary Knott said: "I am not surprised by the [police] figures as people are struggling to make ends meet."

"We have seen an increase of people using our services and there isn't a certain type of client. A lot of people work and are finding it difficult because of the increase in prices or benefit changes."

"We have, on average, 124 extra people that are needing emergency food

HOTSPOT: The Marks & Spencer Simply Food shop at the BP filling station in Southern Way has become a frequent target for shoplifters and are now on average feeding 310 people a month compared to the same period last year. It means we need more of everything, including food, storage facilities and more financing."

Harlow Police's district inspector, Greg Wood said: "We have seen an increase in reports of shoplifting over the past 12 months. This picture is mirrored across the county."

"Harlow's Neighbourhood Policing Team continues to work closely with the various stores and our partner agencies to try to prevent this increase, although this is going to be a challenge."

"I know that there are a number of excellent charities within the town that are working hard to help those families in need and we continue to work with them to identify those members of the community who need their support."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who is a member of a cross-party parliamentary group looking into the need for foodbanks and their growing popularity, said: "There is no doubt that people have faced huge economic difficulties over the years because of the recession, so I thank God for organisations like the Harlow Foodbank for the work they do."

"It is worth noting there are more foodbanks per head in wealthy Germany and France than in England but the reasons for a rise in food thefts and foodbanks are deep and complex."

I could barely function after he died ...

IT was supposed to be the happiest time in Lucy Smith's life. But just a few months before she was due to be married, her world fell apart when her fiancé died from cancer.

Daniel Till, pictured right with Lucy, passed away in March last year at the age of 23, just six months after he was diagnosed with a rare malignant tumour.

"Losing him was the worst thing that's ever happened to me," said Lucy, 22. "It's a disease that can tear loved ones apart."

The couple had booked their wedding venue and Lucy had chosen her dress when Daniel became seriously ill in October 2012.

At first doctors thought he was suffering from a collapsed lung, but hospital tests revealed a mass which was eventually diagnosed as teratoma, a rare malignant tumour.

Daniel underwent a course of chemotherapy and was due to have surgery to remove the tumour when he suffered organ failure and died at St Bart's Hospital in London.

Lucy, a retail duty manager,

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

said: "He had complained of feeling breathless in the months before that but we weren't worried as he'd always been fighting fit. He played football every Wednesday and was always out socialising with friends."

"It was such a shock as he had been doing so well."

"I was so shocked I could barely function the week after his death. I couldn't eat, sleep or even speak. Only the support of my wonderful friends and family got me through."

A year before Daniel's death Lucy's mum Irene was diagnosed with bowel cancer. Irene, a foster carer who also lives in Harlow, was treated with keyhole surgery.

"I've seen both ends of the scale with cancer," said Lucy. "Seeing Mum make a full recovery has been wonderful."

"She has fostered children long term all her life so we were all devastated when she got diagnosed. There are so many of us who need her."

Lucy will be taking part in the Harlow Race for Life in the Town Park on Sunday, May 18 to raise money for Cancer Research UK and help others whose lives have been touched by the disease.

Cheering her on will be her mum, Irene, who also has a son Keith, 27 and two adopted children - Steven, 34, and Clair, 32. Clair will also be running with Lucy.

On Saturday, Lucy will join a team of dancers at Chelmsford Shopping Centre to perform the Cancer Slam to promote Race for Life.

To enter Race for Life, visit www.raceforlife.org or call 0845 600 6050. To sponsor Lucy visit www.justgiving.com/lucy-smith1412.

Spate of car crime could be linked to lights switch-off

SIR, The powers-that-be confidently reassured residents that lights out after midnight would not lead to an increase in criminal activity. Well, after last weekend's crimewave in the Staple Tye area my neighbours think differently.

Numerous vehicles in Joyner's Field, Moorfield, Shawbridge and Hollyfield had their windows broken and contents stolen. The stress, cost and inconvenience is incalculable.

Moreover, it makes one nervous about being safe in one's own home.

I appreciate the police are giving their full attention to solving these crimes, and I very much hope that Harlow residents will pass on any information or suspicions they have to the investigating officers.

However, in the meantime Essex County Council need to liaise closely with Harlow Police to establish whether there is a link with our street lights going off and this massive spike in car crime in the early hours.

And if there is a link our county politicians must have the courage to admit they got it wrong and switch the lights back on.

I had to stump up £50 for a new tyre after hitting pothole

SIR The above photo shows a pothole in Elizabeth Way just before Cannons Brook Golf Club. I hit it at a speed of 40mph; fortunately it caused only a small amount of damage.

However, I have also had experience of another pothole in the same road - near the BP roundabout - before Christmas last year that cost me £50 for a new tyre.

I feel the Highways Agency is cutting back on expenditure and making the motorist pay. I have written to them and to our MP expressing this but I do not think it will have much effect.

The state of the roads in and around Harlow are atrocious. It's not just this year's bad weather; they have been like it for years.

Perhaps we should teach drivers the Green Cross Code

SIR Please tell me what is the point in teaching children the Green Cross

READER Colin Wright took this photograph of one of the feathered visitors to the front garden of his home at The Oxleys, Harlow. "It was waiting on the fence before coming onto the bird feeder," writes Colin.

If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

Code when car drivers don't know it. I was at the zebra crossing in Staple Tye when a car stopped to let me cross. However, another carried on as I was crossing.

I am not a child but I am an elderly disabled lady and use a mobility scooter. I had to stop suddenly or be run over. The woman driver had the cheek to pout her thumb up as thanks.

How can Essex County Council justify cutting back on lollipop patrols when there are irresponsible people like that on the road?

I have spoken to quite a few parents and apparently this is normal practice for some car drivers. I am a great grandmother and I don't want to see any child hurt on the roads.

Fine pavement parkers and use money to fund wardens

SIR In response to correspondence about drivers parking vehicles on pavements, I recall that last year it was suggested Harlow Council employed extra traffic wardens to book these ignorant people.

Knowing how much the council likes to make easy money from the motorist, you would have thought it would have jumped at the opportunity.

It would also work on illegal parking across dropped kerbs as well as cyclists riding on footpaths. The money raised in fines would be enough to employ three new wardens to work round the clock.

As all these are against the Highway Code and against the law, why not get the bobbies back on the beat and book them?

Overwhelmed by the support for mini Black History event

SIR, I am struggling to find a phrase that is much more powerful than thank you to express our profound appreciation for the support for the mini Black History multi-cultural event that took place in Harlow's Market Square on Saturday, March 29.

As I haven't got any other phrase I will use the same old words and say a big thank you to all who came to support the event and to our guest speaker Richard Howitt, who took time out of his busy schedule to join us for this celebration of Harlow's multi-cultural community.

The mini event was the first of its kind in response to the regular request from the public that the town's multi-cultural festival should be held twice a year. Even though publicity for the event was late and limited, we had between 400 and 450 people participating either as spectators, artists, stallholders or performers.

From the initial 114 participants who were counted at the start of the event at noon, an average of 15-20 people joined the celebration every 10 minutes and by the close of the event the monitoring team had over 400 people counted, especially during the performance of Harlow artist Rory Jackson with his astounding Michael Jackson tribute.

Also featuring on the day were Harlow based Efua Sey Cultural Academy African dancers and Britain's Got Talent contestants Project G.

The weather was just perfect for the day and the mini event has now kicked off the preparation for the main event which is scheduled to take place on Saturday, October 4.

So much that makes Harlow a great place to live and work

SIR I was lucky enough to receive an invitation to view the performance of Limitless at Harlow College on Thursday.

This was a concert of dance set to music and performed by students at the end of their two-year BTEC course. It was absolutely fabulous.

Some 24 young students performed a wide variety of dance. The choreography was superb and the dancing was faultless. The energy of the dancers, their grace and the beauty of their movements was as good as anything I have seen in the West End.

We must also admire the hard work and talent of their tutors and choreographers who saw their visions become reality. They have taught their students to think big, to strive for perfection and work hard.

Harlow has so much of which it can be proud. We have the best school of journalism in the UK, our sixth form college is one of the top colleges in the country, we have a Nobel Prize winner for physics and a science-based town which has given much to the UK and the world.

We also have the first apprentice college and one of the first Enterprise Zones which have been set up to promote business.

Our young people are so full of life, energy and talent - we have much to celebrate.

Harlow really is a great place to live and work.

A 43-YEAR-OLD woman has been arrested after a fire in a block of flats in Harlow on Saturday.

Fire crews and police were called to Herons Wood shortly before 11.30am. Firefighters wearing breathing apparatus used hose reels to tackle the fire which was extinguished by 11.45am.

A man and two women rescued from the property were taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital as a precaution.

A spokeswoman for Essex Police said the cause of the fire was being treated as deliberate.

Four flats were damaged as a result of the fire.

A Harlow Council spokesman said: "The tenants affected have been moved into temporary accommodation. The council is doing all it can to offer support to those affected by this fire."

The woman who was arrested has been bailed until May 10 pending further enquiries.

● POLICE are appealing for information after a fire at a tower block in Harlow on Sunday.

Six fire crews from Harlow, Epping, Ongar and Sawbridgeworth attended the blaze in a fourth-floor flat in Brenthall Towers shortly before 3pm.

Crews wore breathing apparatus and used one jet to extinguish the fire by 3.37pm. They then ventilated the smoke-logged property using a high pressured fan.

The cause of the fire is thought to be deliberate and police have asked for anyone with information should call Harlow CID on 101 or Crime-stoppers on 0800 555111.

Children kept in over smog fear

PUPILS at a Harlow school were kept indoors after parents raised concerns about warnings of high pollution levels in the town.

Youngsters at Pear Tree Mead Primary and Nursery were not allowed to go outside at playtime after the school decided it would be best for their health and safety.

The Government had issued a warning of high levels of air pollution on Wednesday, with levels of pollutants officially registering as "high" in Harlow.

Deputy headteacher Christine Peden said: "We had a few phonecalls from some parents who said they were concerned with their children who had asthma or who were suffering from a sore throat and what we were doing as a school.

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"Obviously the warnings have shown that we needed to be wary, especially with children taking part in any type of physical exertion and obviously lunchtime is when they are running around and doing that.

"For their own health we kept them in, and informed parents we would be doing so by text. We also mentioned in our text that the children would be allowed outside [the following day] unless they told us otherwise."

The children took part in games and activities they would have during wet play.

"We explained to the children we were keeping them indoors because of the pollution and what that meant and that the reason we were doing so was for their own health," Ms Peden added.

"Our parents are really important to us and a big part of the school so we listened to their concerns and the children's health and safety comes first."

Two become one as schools amalgamate

STUDENTS from Jerounds Infant and Junior schools celebrated on Friday as the two became one.

Now known as Jerounds Primary School, a special event was held to mark the move.

The event culminated in a blue and white balloon release ceremony, pictured right, at the end of the school day.

A spokeswoman for the Pyenest Road school said: "We held a celebration day for the children, staff and their parents."

The whole school took part in art and craft activities and had a special meal at lunchtime.

UP, UP AND AWAY: Students from newly-formed Jerounds Primary School let off balloons to mark the event on Friday

Police use of tasers in county up 400%

THE use of electric tasers by police officers in Essex has increased more than fourfold in two years.

Figures released by the Home Office show that the weapons, which deliver an incapacitating dose of electricity, were deployed 152 times during 2013 - up from 100 in 2012 and 34 in 2011.

A police spokesman said: "The increase in the deployment of tasers is due to more officers trained in the carriage and deployment of them."

While police officers drew their tasers in 152 incidents in 2013, people were shot with them on just 33 occasions - roughly 22 per cent. Of these, tasers were fired with a live cartridge 31 times.

In two cases in the first half of last year they were used in a 'drive stun' method. This is where the weapon is held against the subject's body and the trigger is pulled with no probes being fired, causing pain but not delivering an incapacitating effect.

They were aimed at subjects 13 times and drawn out of their holster as a warning 23 times.

The weapons were introduced to the force in September 2005. There are now 225 of 3,330 officers trained to use the 94 weapons the force holds.

Roughly 20 officers are carrying a taser on a daily basis.

A Freedom of Information Act request revealed that no people shot by a taser had suffered long-term injury since their introduction in the county.

Back to the '80s

THE organisers of this year's Midnight Walk in Harlow are going back to the '80s for the summer fundraiser.

The Star-backed event, which has raised hundreds of thousands of pounds for St Clare Hospice at Hastingwood since it was first held back in 2007, will take place on Saturday, June 28.

And in a break from tradition the colour theme is being changed from pink to purple and yellow with the aim of encouraging more men to take part.

The official launch took place in the Water Gardens on Friday, with hospice supporters encouraging shoppers to sign up.

There will be two routes for walkers to choose from - 5km and 10km. Registration is now open with an early bird 2-for-£20 sign-up offer until the end of this month. From May 1 the fee will be £15 per person.

Walk in the town centre. Everyone loved the '80s theme and we've already had lots of people take advantage of our 2-for-£20 registration offer.

"It was great to hear so many people say they have supported the event in the past and are looking forward to taking part again this year with their family and friends.

"We hope that the community will get behind the hospice and join us for our '80s Fun Night to help make this year's Midnight Walk the best yet."

She added: "We are encouraging people to come in fancy dress as their favourite '80s icons. We're still finalizing the entertainment for the night, which will hopefully include '80s music, a fancy dress parade, possibly some lookalikes/ impersonators and '80s merchandise. We're also looking into some more entertainment along the route."

Warning after woman poses as police officer for fraud phone calls

A WOMAN posing as a police officer targeted a Harlow resident this week as part of an ongoing telephone scam to steal money or bank cards.

The woman, who calls herself 'Jennifer Clark', or 'Jennifer Lark', has tried on several occasions to steal from elderly or vulnerable people in Essex during the past few weeks.

On Tuesday afternoon she called a man living in Milwards but he quickly realised her call was part of the fraud and raised the alarm.

Detective Sergeant Neil Hudson said: "This woman is linked to attempted frauds across the south of the county. She always claims to be an officer from the local police station and says she is investigating burglaries in the area.

"She tells her intended victims that her bank cards have been found as a result of enquiries into the burglaries, then asks the victims to let police have bank or credit cards or large sums of cash for forensic examination.

"There have been similar scams where the victims are tricked into providing cards or cash but they are never returned."

The telephone fraudsters made 140 calls to Essex residents during March but the majority were unsuccessful.

A total of 750 similar thefts and attempted thefts have been reported in the county - including Harlow and Epping - since the scam first came to light in January 2013.

More than 100 people in the county have been tricked out of money and the total stolen is more than £355,000.

COPING WITH Bereavement

GRIEF is a very personal thing and there is no right or wrong way to react when we lose someone close to us.

One thing is certain - as painful as it is, you are not alone and it can help to know that others feel the same way in similar circumstances.

At first some people may find it very hard to accept or understand the death of a loved one. Some feel so shocked that they cannot accept that the person has died at all and even deny it is true.

Anger is another common emotion.

One question many people ask is "why me"? You may think it unfair that someone close to you has died. This can make you feel very angry with everything and everyone - maybe even the person who has died and left you.

Perhaps you feel guilty for not doing certain things with your relative or friend before they died or remember all the times you felt you did or said the wrong thing to them. Again, this is just a natural part of the grieving process.

It is natural to feel depressed for some time after a death of someone close, but if these feelings continue for several months you may need help. Counselling, therapy or medication can help you to take interest in life again and find things that you enjoy doing.

How long people grieve for is a very individual thing. It may be months or even years, but it won't always be so intense.

Give yourself time to heal. The most important part of healing is to acknowledge that you are grieving. Two things that help the most with grief are time and support. You can't force yourself to feel better.

Eventually you will be able to think about the person who died and it won't be as painful. You will start to feel like planning ahead and looking forward to more good times.

This doesn't mean in any way that you have less feeling for the person who has died. You will always remember and love them for what you shared together. And they wouldn't want your life to come to a standstill or for you to feel sad for ever.

No new housing 'is not an option'

RESIDENTS and businesses are being urged to have their say on where new homes and jobs should be created in Harlow.

Consultation on Harlow Council's Local Plan, a blueprint for future development in the town, starts on Monday.

Views will be sought on five different examples for how new housing developments could be accommodated within Harlow and possible locations outside the town.

The council say all examples "protect Harlow's existing green spaces as much as they can".

A council spokesman said: "Harlow was never meant to stand still and today Harlow faces a number of issues and development pressures.

"The council needs to plan for the future by providing development to meet local needs and to deliver the regeneration of the town."

The Local Plan will set out how many new homes and jobs are to be provided in Harlow up to the year 2031.

It should reflect the future needs of the community and

businesses, and will provide a framework for the consideration and assessment of planning applications received by the council.

To achieve the council's key priorities of delivering more and better housing, regenerating the town and stimulating the local economy, evidence shows that between 12,000 and 15,000 new homes and between 8,000 and 12,000 jobs will be required up to 2031.

Planning permission has already been granted for 4,500 homes in Harlow, so locations for a further 7,500 to 10,500 homes need to be identified.

Approximately 30 per cent of new homes will be affordable/ social housing to help families and individuals that cannot currently afford to buy their own home.

The council is required by Government policy to boost significantly the supply of housing to meet the needs of the community, which means that 'no housing growth' is not an option.

The spokesman added: "If we do not deliver the housing to support regeneration the risk is that Harlow will decline.

"We all know what new housing and new jobs mean to Harlow so we need as many people from the young to the old and all sized businesses to let us know their views on this vital issue.

"We want to start a healthy debate on Harlow's future. We need new housing for Harlow people but where should it go?"

The council has published the Emerging Strategy and Further Options document for consultation and this document can be read and views given at www.harlow.gov.uk/local-plan from today. Further consultations will take place later this year.

The document will also be available in the Civic Centre, Central Library and Old Harlow Library. Exhibitions will also be held throughout the consultation and details of these will be on the Council's website.

The consultation closes on May 30.

SUCCESS: New volunteers who completed the Home Start Prep Course with the charity's staff

Volunteers celebrate course successes

ORGANISERS of two Home Start Harlow courses for volunteers are celebrating success.

The charity, which provides support and practical help to young families under stress, has welcomed six new recruits who have completed the prep course during which they learned about confidentiality, safeguarding, listening skills and domestic abuse.

The group of volunteers will now be able to provide one-to-one home visits for those using the charity's services.

A group of parents have also completed the voluntary organisation's Loving Limits course - the first of its kind for Home Start. The project was funded by Essex County Council for a year.

Senior co-ordinator Val Evans said: "The prep course went really well as did the Loving Limits. Both have been a real success and we're really pleased."

Rock star Rod's raffle donation to ambulance team's charity dinner

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A TEAM of 10 ambulance clinicians are taking part in a cycle nightride for cancer research as well as holding a charity dinner dance to boost their fundraising efforts.

The women, who all work for the East of England Ambulance Service as frontline staff on rapid response cars and ambulances in Harlow, Waltham Abbey, Great Notley and Loughton, will be taking part in the first 100km London night ride at the end of next month.

And they have received the best wishes of rock legend Rod Stewart and his wife, model Penny Lancaster, pictured right, who presented them with a signed book and CD as a raffle prize.

The group, who have called themselves the Ambulance Angels, are hoping to raise £3,000 for three charities - Breast Cancer Care, Jo's Cervical Cancer Trust and Ovarian Cancer Action.

Team member Julie Smithers, 42, said: "This is very close to our hearts as one of our ladies taking part, Jo Townsend (pictured right), has beaten both breast cancer and ovarian cancer in 2005 and 2008 respectively. She is our inspiration.

"We organised a quiz night in February which raised £1,432 and we are having a dinner dance on April 25 with a live band, DJ, raffle and a blind auction."

As well as the signed book and CD from Rod Stewart, raffle prizes include flying lessons and a 4x4 off-road driving day.

Julie added: "We decided on doing the 100km in aid of women's cancer because Jo has beaten two of them and because it is the first one. We want to raise as much money as possible really to help the charities."

Tickets for the dinner dance, which will be held at the Park Inn Hotel in Harlow from 7pm-12.30am, are £40 and include canapes on arrival and a four-course meal with wine. To buy tickets call 077960 08593. To sponsor the cyclists visit www.justgiving.com/teams/the-ambulanceangels.

Support group's pamper day for cancer sufferers

A SUPPORT network for women affected by cancer will be launching a new Look Good Feel Better masterclass - a first for Harlow and the surrounding areas - on Monday.

Brafternoon will give women the chance to share their experiences of all forms of cancer.

The monthly social group was set up in 2012 by Anita Gray who wanted women diagnosed with the disease the opportunity to benefit from sharing their story with others who have been through similar situations.

National charity Look Good Feel Better launched the masterclasses, which are run by volunteer beauty professionals, to celebrate the organisation's 20th anniversary.

To book a place on the masterclass which will be held at The Link in Parsloe Road, contact Anita on 07703 254001 or visit www.brafternoon.co.uk.

Celebrations at Tea 'n' Togs

VOLUNTEERS and staff at the Salvation Army Centre in Harlow celebrated the anniversary of one of their weekly events.

Tea 'n' Togs, which is held at the Tendring Road centre every Tuesday, has been running for 21 years. Clothing, footwear, bric-a-brac, books, toys and a range of other items are sold and the proceeds donated to the Salvation Army.

Shoppers can also enjoy a cup of tea and meet the volunteers.

Maureen Eggleton, 82, of Finchmoor, has been volunteering for Tea 'n' Togs since it first started in March 1993.

"When we first started we did not have much stuff but that's changed a lot now," said Maureen. "All the volunteers enjoy meeting people coming in and we feel like we are doing a service to the community."

She added: "Tea 'n' Togs has grown a lot since it started. We have a group of people helping us from the Youth Offending Team and a young man from Harlow Fields School who volunteers regularly. It's a great service I think.

"For me, it's about the people; that's the best part."

Tea 'n' Togs is held every Tuesday from 8.45-11am.

MP backs family's call for report to name murder victim

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon is calling for Eystna Blunnie and her unborn daughter Rose to be named in a report into their deaths to "provide comfort" to their family.

The findings of a domestic homicide review - which are carried out by community safety partnerships to ensure agencies are responding appropriately to victims of domestic violence - into the deaths of Miss Blunnie and her unborn daughter are due to be published.

Ms Blunnie was killed by her former boyfriend Tony McLernon in a brutal attack in June 2012. He was jailed for life with a recommendation that he stays behind bars for at least 27 years.

The report into Ms Blunnie's death is anonymous apart from the inclusion of the names of the review panel chairman and members.

However, Mr Halfon said the 20-year-old mother-to-be and her unborn daughter were "failed by people" and added he could see no reason why they should not be identified in the report.

Raising the issue in the House of Commons on Thursday, Mr Halfon said: "This terrible crime left the whole of Harlow in shock. Since then, a domestic homicide review has been carried out and is due to be published soon. It will be anonymised, despite the parents' wish for their daughter and her child to be named."

He called on the Home Secretary and the Justice Secretary to investigate the matter.

The Leader of the House of Commons, Andrew Lansley, said the names were left out of the report for data protection reasons. "I am

Cold-blooded killer who has shown no remorse

EYSTNA BLUNNIE: Smiling and left for dead by Tony McLernon

Man who brutally attacked his heavily-pregnant ex-girlfriend in drink-fuelled rage is jailed for life

At the callous killer of young woman Eystna Blunnie, the week started a life sentence for her murder. The parents of this young victim will never see her again.

After a two-week trial it took the jury at Chelmsford Crown Court just two hours to convict Tony McLernon of killing his former girlfriend and causing the death of their unborn child.

Yesterday (Wednesday) he was jailed for a minimum of 27 years.

During the trial the jury heard a harrowing account of how he repeatedly attacked Ms Blunnie in a drink and drug-fuelled rage on the early hours of June 21 last year.

He had been out with a friend in which he told her to meet him in Harlow Way, Harlow, telling her he had a "surprise" for her. He then drove to her home and forced her into the ground and repeatedly kicked and stomped on her.

Ms Blunnie was later found in a pool of blood with more than 50 separate head and facial injuries. She died later the same day in Princess Alexandra Hospital, Chelmsford.

Doctors were unable to save her baby girl, who was still in the womb at the time.

Unrepentant McLernon, of North Cove, Harlow, was found guilty of murder and child destruction. He denied both charges.

In a statement released after his conviction, Ms Blunnie's family said: "In June 2012 our lovely young daughter Eystna, Eystna, and her unborn child, Rose, the victim, were so loved and their deaths were such a brutal tragedy."

They added: "Tony McLernon has caused us our daughter and grand-daughter with the conviction of their killer."

Thanking the police and legal team as well as family and friends for their support and those who helped Ms Blunnie after the attack, they added: "We would like now to be left with our family to try and rebuild our lives and remember Eystna and Rose in our hearts and minds."

Detective Chief Inspector Lucy Robinson, the senior investigating officer in the case, said: "McLernon is a dangerous, violent man. The saddest outcome in this case is that his family and friends are in constant fear of being associated with Eystna and the tragedy that has befallen them."

"Throughout the thorough police investigation he has not sought to explain his actions."

is reviewed and quality assured by a panel of independent and Home Office experts.

"Each review results in a tailored action plan delivered by the area in question to ensure that we learn and act on the lessons of individual tragedies," he told MPs.

"I understand that a domestic homicide review of this case is under way and will be published by the community safety partnership in the coming months. For reasons of data protection, such reviews are anonymised to protect the identity of all involved, including the victims and their families."

Mr Halfon told the Star this week: "I understand it is to do with data protection, but people have failed Eystna and Rose."

"People have failed them and I do not see why they should not be identified anyway but I would be happy with the reports naming Eystna and Rose as her family have asked and they retracted any other names."

"It would provide some comfort to the family."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Smoker fined £200 for littering

A SMOKER who was seen throwing away her cigarette butt has been fined £200 and ordered to pay more than £300 in costs.

Chelmsford Magistrates Court was told Natasha Watts, of The Readings, Harlow, had failed to pay a fixed penalty notice issued by a member of Harlow Council's community safety team who saw her throw the butt on the floor.

She did not appear for the hearing last Tuesday and was found guilty in her absence. She was fined £200 and ordered to pay costs of £292 and a victim surcharge of £20.

A council spokesman said afterwards: "Dropping a cigarette butt is not a petty act as it contributes hugely to the amount of litter on our streets. Litter-picking costs both time and council taxpayers' money."

Business booming for barber shop owner Ali

A NEW business is going from strength to strength and the owner says it is quality of service and attention to detail that is the secret of its success.

Entrepreneur Ali opened his third Ali Barbers in Harlow - he owns two others in Broxbourne and Kent - in February and business is booming.

"It's been fantastic, we have not had one complaint," he said. "Everyone comes out after having a hot shave and a hair cut and says they feel like a new man."

"We have five barbers with over 75 years of experience between them."

"The quality of service is superior to other businesses here at Ali Barbers and the attention to detail that the barbers have here sets us apart."

Ali Barbers is in Terminus Street and operates a walk-in service so customers are not required to book an appointment.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Harvey Centre wins award

THE Harvey Centre has received a silver Zero Waste Award for its contribution to the environment.

The awards, which were judged by a panel of environmental experts, aim to recognise organisations that are committed to reaching their goal of sending zero waste to landfills.

The Harvey Centre with a total footprint of nearly one million sq ft was praised for implementing its own zero landfill strategy a year ago and for the positive results that have been achieved so far.

The Harvey Centre has also been working closely with charity Phoenix Resources, which collects abandoned stock and furniture following shop clearances. Anything that can be re-used is then made available to schools and other good causes.

Metro Cars' cash giveaway

CAB company Metro Cars have launched a new cash giveaway where customers could win £1,000.

Customers of the firm, which is based in Templefields, Harlow, can take part by hiring a cab and quoting the reference 'is it me' to be entered into a draw. One passenger will be picked out at random every other month and awarded £1,000.

Co-owner Kyle Harris said: "We will be having the cash giveaway every other month on the 14th. It is totally random and one call quoting the reference is one entry."

"We decided to run the giveaway to show customers we are the best value cab company in Harlow, to encourage people to use our services and to give something back to the community."

The first winner will be picked at random by Metro Cars staff on Wednesday, May 14.

Firm's £500k investment

SHEET metal fabricators Harlow Group held an open day to celebrate the completion of a 5,500 sq.ft. extension as well as the introduction of the latest laser technology.

The company opened in 1971 when original founders Len Simmons and Alan Bailey started what was then a small sheet metal company in north London. The business quickly grew in size and moved into larger premises in Harlow in 1975.

Today the Harlow Group employs more than 100 people and operates out of 60,000sq ft of manufacturing space, making it one of the leading metal manufacturers in the UK.

The changes include a complete redesign of the shop floor to improve workflow. It has also invested in the latest fibre optic laser cutting machine supplied by Mada.

The new technology represents more than £500,000 of investment and is three times more efficient than the company's previous Co2 laser.

Removing school lollipop patrols could put lives at risk

I was concerned to hear that Essex County Council are currently consulting on the future of school crossing patrols in Essex in order to save money.

Harlow's crossing patrollers do a fantastic job protecting our children as they make their way to school, and I am fighting hard to protect this valuable service.

I have been working alongside Potter Street lollipop lady Jane Chivral and we have set up an online petition together. It already has over 220 supporters.

I have also tabled a Parliamentary Motion asking for the service to be continued, raised the issue in Parliament and met with Harlow's road crossing patrollers to discuss the plans.

I was impressed by some of the alternative solutions that they suggested, such as cutting the amount of time they spent at each crossing by 10 minutes or asking for sponsorship from businesses.

I have written to Essex County Council with each of these suggestions and also asked if they will carry out a thorough risk assessment.

Removing school crossing patrollers could put the lives of children at risk and I believe that the safety implications of these proposals must be examined fully.

School crossing patrollers are important figures of reassurance for our community, keeping our roads safe and speeding to a minimum.

By Harlow MP Robert Halfon

LAST month the Chancellor presented a budget to Parliament which contained a lot of good news for hardworking Harlow residents.

The economy is recovering faster than had been predicted and although the job is far from done, no major advanced economy is growing faster than Britain is today.

In the coming year, the deficit will have been halved, 1.7 million new private sector jobs will have been created since 2010 and we are seeing the fastest fall in youth unemployment since 1997.

This was a worker's budget with a relentless focus on the cost of living, the low paid and getting people back into work. George Osborne announced that he will be increasing the income tax threshold to £10,500 so the average Harlow resident will be £800 better off than they would have been under Labour's plans.

To help ease the cost of living, the Government is introducing a range of measures such as increasing tax free childcare to £2,000 per child, freeing fuel duty until the end of this Parliament and cancelling Labour's fuel duty rise that was due to kick in at the end of this year.

It is also giving pensioners more freedom and flexibility over their pensions, while small businesses will benefit from the scrapping of National Insurance contributions for those aged under 21. Alongside lower energy bills and corporation tax, businesses will now have more money to invest, expand and hire more people.

Finally, I was delighted that the Chancellor slashed bingo tax from 20 per cent to 10 per cent, as I have been campaigning for a cut in bingo tax alongside members of the Harlow Mecca Bingo Club. This will protect jobs and allow many bingo clubs across the country to be refurbished.

Whilst there is still a long way to go, this budget is great news for Harlow and will help families and small business owners go from strength to strength.

Drop in bedroom tax figures 'not enough'

NEW research shows the number of households in the east of England affected by the controversial spare room supplement dubbed by critics as a bedroom tax has fallen.

Figures released under the Freedom of Information Act to campaign site False Economy - which is backed by the Trade Union Council - reveal the number of affected households in Harlow has fallen by almost a fifth since it was introduced.

But campaigners say the figures do not go far enough and there is still a nationwide shortage of single bedroom social housing.

According to False Economy, the majority of affected tenants have been unable to move to a smaller property, come off housing benefits or take in a lodger as the Government suggested.

"The bedroom tax was never about making housing allocation fairer or cutting the welfare bill," said a spokesman. "It was about putting social housing further out of the reach of those who need it and driving families into a debt spiral that traps them in squalid overpriced private tenancies and jobs that don't pay."

In Harlow the number of households affected has fallen by 20.9 per cent while in Epping Forest it has fallen by 20.2 per cent.

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Megan Doherty, secretary of the southern and eastern region of the TUC, said: "Ministers seem not to know about the nationwide shortage of single bedroom social homes, nor are they aware of any of the many valid reasons why tenants need more space than the Government says they do. "And the bedroom tax hasn't stopped the housing benefit bill from going up. This is because wages have stagnated for the working poor and rents have increased as the decade's long failure to build enough homes bites."

But Harlow MP Robert Halfon said said there were almost 600 families in Harlow who are living in overcrowded accommodation.

"In almost every surgery I hold I speak to families living in overcrowded accommodation, often with four or five people living in one or two rooms," he said.

"The purpose of the spare room supplement is to try and alleviate overcrowding in Harlow, to ensure that every family living in social housing has a house that meets their needs.

"It is worth remembering that the Labour Party initially brought this in for social housing tenants living in private accommodation on housing benefit."

He added: "There is no such thing as a bedroom tax. It merely acts as an incentive to those people living in social housing who have more rooms than they need to downsize."

Sue Jones, of the Harlow Advice Centre, said: "Some people lose out because they don't understand the rules and so fail to question the assessment when the tax is imposed."

"Our column in next week's Star will provide information about the housing benefit claimants that are subject to it and when it should not be imposed."

Tour de France director takes a tour de Essex

THE general director of the Tour de France visited County Hall on Tuesday as part of a tour de Essex.

Christian Prudhomme stopped off in Chelmsford where he met Essex County Council representatives as part of his tour of the third stage of the world-famous cycle race which runs through the county on its journey from Cambridge to London on July 7.

Councillor Ann Naylor, cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "It was wonderful to meet Mr Prudhomme who was able to see that Essex is truly one of most unique and beautiful areas of the country.

"I am thrilled about the great things the Tour de France will bring to our county and I am sure the international cyclists will receive an enthusiastic welcome from all Essex residents who watch the race."

Meet the 'geep'

A RARE, hybrid animal that is part goat and part sheep has been born on a farm in the Republic of Ireland. The animal, which is being referred to as a geep, was born about two weeks ago on Paddy Murphy's farm in County Kildare. The unexpected arrival is thought to be the result of mating between a goat and one of the sheep farmer's Cheviot ewes. Mr Murphy has described the accidental birth as a "shock to the system".

Showtime for the gang

LAST week we featured the story of Christine Sellings and her husband Jim, who met through their shared interest in the Scouting movement.

Christine's family has an association with the Scouts going back many decades, as does her husband who she met during a scouting trip to Risden Park.

Keeping with the Scouting theme, Christine, 61, of Long Banks, has sent in this photograph of the Harlow Gang Show taken in 1970. Her parents, Barbara and Roy, and Jim's parents, Eric and Edna, were all part of the production.

They performed on stage and were also

involved behind the scenes making sure everything ran smoothly.

Gang shows were popular with Scouts and Guides, who not only got the chance to perform in the spotlight but also helped create the scenery, operate the lighting, sell tickets and arrange rehearsals.

Christine, who will be celebrating her 40th wedding anniversary this year, said: "Both our families were involved in the Harlow Gang Show and Jim appeared in two productions while I helped backstage and

In the picture are Eric, second row from top far left, Edna, third row down fourth on the left, and Barbara, third row down third left. Roy is pictured between two Venture Scouts, centre third row from bottom.

Battle of the sexes as PAH staff have a ball on soccer field

SPORT has always been an easy way of making people feel part of a team - and that was not lost on staff at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The photograph, above, was published in the Harlow Gazette and Citizen in February 1974 and shows PAH nurses with the hospital radio DJs just before their 'get to know each other' football match.

The game was won by the women's team who beat the men by 11 goals and three points to six goals.

One members of the men's team said afterwards: "We had to give them some points because it was more like a rugby match the way they played it".

Shopping centre's blue hue

THE Harvey Centre was illuminated with blue light as part of a series of events to mark World Autism Day.

Harlow-based charity PACT for Autism, a group of parents and professionals which supports families with children and adults affected by the condition, marked the blue-themed awareness day with events throughout last week.

While The Harvey Centre changed its exterior lighting to blue, Burnt Mill Academy lowered its blue window blinds on Wednesday. The group also held a talk at Passmore Academy and ran a stall at Asda in the Water Gardens

Charity executive Sam Fancett said: "World Autism Day shines a bright light on autism as a growing global health crisis.

"PACT for Autism aim to develop long-term strategies with local communities that will improve living, working and social opportunities for people with autism and similar disorders.

"We celebrated World Autism Awareness Day by lighting up the Harvey Centre blue and showing the world that Harlow is a leading town on autism."

County faces uphill battle to repair highway defects

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE number of potholes on Essex roads in need of repair has increased after the prolonged spell of rain at the start of the year.

Statistics released last week show there were a total of 16,250 recorded highway defects in the three months to the end of March, up from 15,939 in the quarter to the end of December.

The local roads network fared the worst, according to the figures. On the 3,230 miles for which Essex County Council is responsible for maintenance, the number of faults increased from 10,397 to 11,674.

Defects on 125 miles of roads in Harlow rose from 610 to 632 while on the 68.5 roads in the Epping Forest district they increased from 877 to 1,152.

However, the number of faults on 588 miles of Priority 1 (PR1) roads fell from 1,796 to 1,280 and on Priority 2 (PR2) roads, from 3,746 to 3,296.

More than 8,000 repairs have taken place across the networks during the first three months of the year and there will be a "further concentrated effort" over the next quarter.

County councillor Rodney Bass, cabinet member for highways and transportation, said: "Our teams have been working extremely hard to attend to

Call for investment in key roads

ESSEX County Council has been pressing the case for major improvements to the A12, A120 and A127.

Highways and transportation cabinet member Rodney Bass and Witham MP Priti Patel discussed the council's Local Transport Plan Update - which details its strategy for delivering the transport schemes required to deliver economic growth across the county - with roads minister Robert Goodwin.

It includes a prioritised list of schemes that have been included in the authority's submission to the Strategic Economic Plan which is being presented by the South East

Local Enterprise Partnership to the Government as part of its bid to the Single Local Growth Fund.

Cllr Bass said: "It is so important that we are able to discuss such strategic issues and we shall continue to work closely with the Highways Agency to influence improvement of these key roads."

Ms Patel said: "Essex is an engine of economic growth and by investing in our roads to reduce congestion and improve safety businesses can create more jobs and growth."

"The problems caused by delays and traffic on our roads harm businesses, prolong journeys and add costs."

The three types of road

● County Route (Priority 1) - Strategic roads with the highest volumes of traffic

● County Route (Priority 2) - Roads which provide an essential traffic management and distributor function between the Priority 1 network and local roads

● Local roads - All other roads maintained by Essex County Council defects and I am pleased to say that substantial improvements are now at last being seen, particularly on the PR1 and PR2 network.

"We do, of course, remain determined to reduce the number of defects across the network as a whole. More money has been committed by the council and the Government and this should ensure continuing improvements to the overall condition of the roads in Essex."

It's always better to just do what you do

IT might come as a surprise to hear Frank Turner has an Iron Maiden tattoo.

The singer-songwriter - who will be performing at this year's Standon Calling festival in August - in usually seen wielding an acoustic guitar and might not fit the image of a heavy metal superfan.

When he appeared on - and won - Celebrity Mastermind earlier this year, the British rock legends were Frank's specialist subject.

And to celebrate his win, the 32-year-old decided to get a lasting tribute to the band, with a tattoo of Eddie, Iron Maiden's living dead mascot.

But when he joins them on the bill at Sonisphere Festival in July, Frank said he wasn't expecting to be invited to join them on stage.

"One of the things I like about star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

them, they are technically brilliant," he said. "I'm nowhere near good enough."

And as well as Iron Maiden, Frank said he was excited to see Chas and Dave.

"They are the two extremes of my music taste," he said. "I'm excited to see the Deftones - I've got all their records. On a personal level I'm in my element."

Having released his fifth album Tape Deck Heart last April, the Hampshire-born musician faces a busy summer, performing at a host of festivals in the UK and abroad, including Standon Calling as well as Sonisphere.

But despite the different crowds at the two festivals, Frank said he wasn't going to change his sets to suit each.

"In my experience in this live music game, it's always better to just do what you do and not tailor yourself to your audience. I think it's a losing game trying to do that."

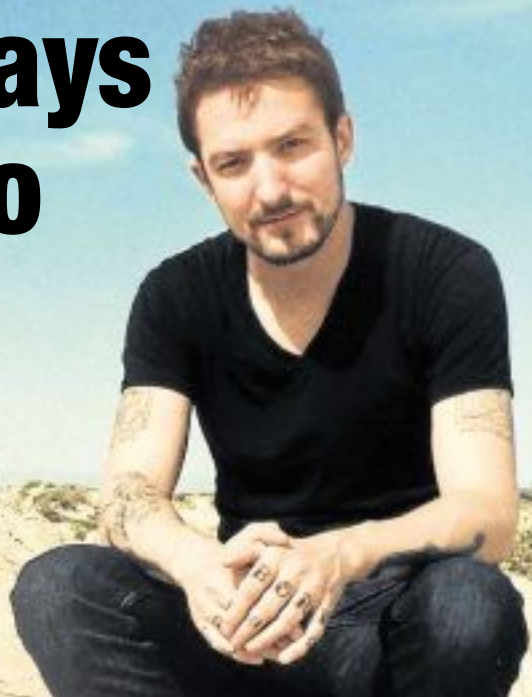

"At the end of the day, what's the point in misrepresenting yourself to people?"

Joined by his band the Sleeping Souls, Frank's busy summer kicks off on Sunday.

"Every year, the first one of the summer I'm always really excited about and pumped and ready for it."

"The good thing about festivals is that you make new fans. People come and see you that might not actually buy a ticket to a gig. It gives you a chance to win them over."

"Music fans are more broad minded than some people in the media give them credit for."

Laughs aplenty on way to see the Wizard

AUDIENCES were transported to the bright and colourful land of Oz as Captiv8 Productions took to the Harlow Playhouse stage with their version of The Wizard of Oz.

Though billed as an Easter pantomime, this version is as much for the adults as it is for children.

Jokes, raps, songs and continued references to popular culture made the show a delight to watch and one that had the audience in stitches.

Director Tom Swift starred as the Scarecrow and carried most of the audience's laughter with his unabashed performance and ability to reach out to the audience without detracting from the story or the other actors.

Special mention should be given to Katie Hastings who plays the Wicked Witch of the West. Her first appearance on stage as the witch is a memorable one review

The Wizard of Oz Harlow Playhouse

and she provided as much laughter as she did boos from the audience. She was the perfect pantomime villain with just enough evil and sass to take on one of the most famous witches in literature.

The story is a well-known one amongst adults and children and Captiv8 Productions success is in how it has kept the story fresh, and entertaining with a modern edge.

For the few who do not know the story, The Wizard of Oz follows Dorothy Gale and her dog Toto - which was ingeniously recreated on stage by a puppet controlled primarily by Dorothy, played by Meghan Rayner, and the scarecrow - as the Kansas pair are swept away in a twister and end up in Oz. And their adventure begins to return home.

Lighting, sound, costumes and choreography was spot-on. The dancers were flawless and need to be given credit for being brilliant, even when dancing as trees.

Meghan was a fantastic Dorothy, and commanded the stage with her solo performances.

Pantomimes are usually reserved for the Christmas period, but if they were anything like the Playhouse's Easter pantomime I am certain it would quickly become a new tradition for families, couples and anyone who is looking for a fun, comedic night.

Captiv8 Productions have taken the best of pantomime, added a load of belly laughs and created a perfect Easter pantomime.

Gardening is child's play

IF the weather is fine this Easter (and it's beginning to look like it might be), many parents will be wanting to sort out their gardens - and hopefully encouraging their children to give them a hand along the way.

With National Gardening Week (April 14-20) on its way - a scheme launched three years ago by the RHS to celebrate gardening with nationwide events - there really is no excuse not to get your little ones outdoors.

Andrea Fowler, horticultural educator at RHS Garden Wisley, points out that attracting wildlife, seed-sowing and vegetable-growing are all sources of inspiration to young gardeners.

"Spring is definitely here so we can be seed-sowing and planting in earnest," she says. "If you just want to get the children outside do an Easter egg hunt in the garden - there are also Easter holiday activities at all four RHS gardens over the holidays."

"If you're sowing seeds with children, sow something that's going to spark their imagination. Plant flower seeds which children will be excited about, like calendula - there's a calendula called 'Poppin' which is an extra spicy pot marigold. There's also cornflower 'Blue Boy' and sunflowers, which everyone loves."

"Nasturtiums are fantastic and make great container plants so you don't need to have a huge garden, you can just grow them in a window box. Herbs are also great.

"If you're growing veg with children, have a go with 'Pink Fir Apple' potatoes (a maincrop variety with knobbly pink skinned tubers of butter yellow, waxy flesh) or purple potatoes, purple beans and yellow tomatoes, which will get them interested."

Attracting wildlife into the garden will also engage the children, so help them build a mini-beast hotel (although autumn can be a better time to do this when wildlife is looking to hibernate).

A simple bug hotel can be made from a collection of hollow stems packed into a plastic bottle with the end cut off. Several hotels could be placed in different positions such as on the ground among vegetation, fixed on top of a post, next to a wall, half way up a hedge, in a tree, under a bird table.

Grander bug hotels can be made by piling up a variety of materials into a tower, or making a wooden frame with a series of compartments and packing these with different fillings.

Remember rotting wood is both a home and source of food for various beetle grubs and a vast army of other mini-beasts, which in turn make a tasty snack for birds, hedgehogs and frogs, so leave an area of the garden wild and build a log pile with the children.

"Children also love worms," says Andrea. "If you are working in the garden let them dig with a trowel and they'll love it... but don't let them chop the worms in half."

You could also help your children make a bird cake, using fat, good quality wild birdseed, raisins, peanuts and grated cheese. Just leave the fat in a warm place to soften, put the other ingredients into a bowl, chop the fat into small pieces and add to the mixture, mixing it together using fingers or a spoon. Put the mixture into a yoghurt pot to hang from your bird table or roll into balls to place on it.

"We need to get the next generation inspired by gardening," says Andrea, "and there's no time like the present to do so."

Demonic chiller thriller lacking the fear factor

THE QUIET ONES
certificate 15, 1h38m

INSPIRED by a real-life incident - valuable currency for a horror film - The Quiet Ones relives a troubling case of demonic possession that claimed the lives of a team of scientists.

It's immaterial that John Pogue's film is grounded in the contentious facts of an infamous experiment which saw Canadian parapsychologists test their theory that the human mind is responsible for manifestations attributed to ghosts.

All blood-lusting audiences will care about is the number of jump-out-of-your seats shocks and wince-inducing scares that the director and his two co-writers, Craig Rosenberg and Oren Moverman, have crammed into 98 minutes.

Disappointingly, you can count them on two fingers.

The screenplay transplants the malevolent mind games from Toronto to the dreaming spires of 1970s Oxford where Professor Coupland (Jared Harris) is convinced that there is a direct link between paranormal activity and human negative energy.

Ignoring university protocols, he conducts a secret experiment on troubled patient Jane Harper (Olivia Cooke), aided by students Kristina Dalton (Erin Richards) and Harry Abrams (Rory Fleck-Byrne). Cameraman Brian McNeil (Sam Claflin) is recruited to the team to provide the evidence that will send shockwaves through the academic establishment.

The professor takes Brian to a house where Jane is being willingly held in a locked room for her own safety. The girl believes that she is in the thrall of a dark spirit called Evie and the professor is determined to heal her, but as the experiments gather momentum the team witnesses alarming visions that defy rational explanation.

The Quiet Ones is the latest offering from the Hammer Film stable which sent shivers down collective spines with the 2012 chiller The Woman In Black. Pogue's film falls short of that journey into supernatural madness.

It does boast one devilishly teasing scene of impending carnage involving a character unwittingly resting her head in the wrong place, where clumps of her hair can be torn from her scalp.

But for the most part it resorts to staples of the genre - creaking doors that open of their own accord, figures emerging suddenly from the darkness - which can be anticipated well in advance.

Harris teeters on the brink of hysteria throughout, leaving younger co-stars - some of whom are making their film debuts - to curry our sympathy.

The relationship between Claflin and Cooke provides us with an emotional anchor but the script skimps on character development until the closing 10 minutes when a flood of outlandish exposition attempts to wrap everything up with a hellish final flourish.

THE AMAZING SPIDER-MAN 2
certificate 12A, 2h22m

THE webbed wonder amps up the action as he takes on livewire supervillain Electro in this high-voltage sequel!

For Peter Parker (Andrew Garfield), his double life as Spider-Man has been a struggle. But just as he's beginning to relax with girlfriend Gwen Stacy (Emma Stone), a terrifying new foe emerges.

Max Dillon (Jamie Foxx), a downtrodden Oscorp employee, has a terrible accident in a tank of genetically modified electric eels. Emerging as the monstrous blue-skinned Electro, he embarks on a reign of terror with the power of electricity at his command.

In addition to this electrifying new bad guy, Spidey also encounters shaven-headed Russian mobster the Rhino (Paul Giamatti).

And the re-emergence of his old friend Harry Osborn (Dane DeHaan) leads Peter to realise that Oscorp is the common factor uniting his enemies.

THIS stunning, detached family home at the end of a popular cul-de-sac on the Church Langley development overlooks a bridleway.

The property, which has been extended, has three reception rooms, a conservatory and a large master bedroom with en-suite dressing room. There is also CCTV security and an alarm system.

In the entrance hall there are stairs to the first floor, a storage cupboard and doors leading off to the lounge, kitchen, the third reception room and a cloakroom.

The kitchen/breakfast room is fitted with a range of birch wall and base units with granite worktops and splash backs. There is a built-in double oven and combined microwave with a hob, extractor and dishwasher. French doors lead out to the garden.

A separate utility room features a range of fitted wall and base units, solid wood worktops and a butler sink.

Next to the kitchen is the lounge which has an attractive bay window to the front, a feature fireplace and French doors leading to the dining room. The dining room has double doors opening to the conservatory.

A second sitting room has French doors from the hallway and a door to the utility room as well as a door to the garden and one to the garage room/office.

Part of the garage has been converted and can be used as an office/gym or storeroom.

The impressive master bedroom is dual aspect with a vaulted ceiling. There is an archway to a dressing area and en-suite shower room.

The second bedroom also has an en-suite shower room and fitted wardrobes and there are a further two bedrooms - both with fitted wardrobes - and a good size family bathroom.

Outside there is the double garage with additional parking on the driveway.

The garden is south-west facing with a patio area surrounding the house and a wooden summerhouse/shed.

This property is on the books of Reyland Johnson estate agents. Call (01279) 216216 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

WITH easy access to property details on the internet, most buyers will have a pretty good idea of what to expect by the time they turn up for a first viewing.

"Must be seen" and "Internal viewing recommended" are just the agents' ways of pointing out that there is no substitute for a visit.

However, the glossiest brochure in the world, the best photographs or wittiest write up cannot really prepare you for property turn-offs. Damp patches, stains and pet smells are just some of the common issues that buyers complain about when asked what made them reject a particular home.

Research shows that time and again the same problems are flagged up, so if you're selling a home you should pay careful attention to what they say.

Gocompare has just come out with a survey showing top turn-offs for buyers. The majority of them relate to the perceived condition of the property, which is hardly surprising. A new home is one of the biggest financial commitments of our lives and no-one wants unexpected and expensive repairs.

In this particular survey signs of damp are cited as the number one turn-off. It is not that damp is necessarily a big problem, but it is one that is very visible and may, in the mind of a buyer, point to a more serious underlying issue.

Smells are another common factor, particularly pets and cigarettes while dirt, untidiness and bodged DIY follow closely behind. The latter is mostly cosmetic but a prospective buyer will assume the property has been poorly maintained.

More obvious items like outdated kitchens and bathrooms appear further down the list than many would expect. That's because after people move in they tend to replace them anyway.

The survey concludes: "To help ensure a successful sale make sure that before you put your home on the market it is clean, fresh smelling and tidy."

I couldn't have put it better myself!

Spacious terrace for £235,000

THIS larger than average end-of-terrace home is at Parsonage Leys in Harlow.

It has three bedrooms - all of which are double size - as well as a spacious lounge, good size kitchen/breakfast room with a utility room and a modern family bathroom.

Hi Lucy and Charles, just a note to say a big thank you following the completion of our sale and purchase with you. You always kept your cool and professionalism despite the complications we encountered. Great communication at all points, you worked so hard to get this right for us, very different from previous estate agent encounters. Real personal touch and all at the most competitive price in town. Apple Tree come highly recommended. Many Thanks Steve and Connie 9.4.14 are 'moving' with the times...

Your local Ford Main Dealer in Britannia Road, Waltham Cross is transferring to Edinburgh Way, Harlow with effect from 11th April 2014. Also, our recently upgraded dealership situated on Epping High Street, together with our dealership on Gascoyne Way (A414), Hertford are located nearby and may better suit your needs. To contact your local Gates dealership please call Epping on 01992 280125, Hertford on 01992 662893 or Harlow on 01279 216643.

Much has changed in the motor industry as demonstrated in these photographs of those early days. "Consumer Experience" expectations have changed dramatically in recent years and for this reason the spacious showrooms at Harlow have also been upgraded to accommodate special new customer "Hello", "Relax" and "Discover Ford" zones. There have been numerous car and commercial vehicle launches recently with several more expected in the coming months. With this and the launch of an all new Transit Centre, our premises in Waltham Cross have simply been outgrown!

Of course, not only the full range of new Ford cars and vans may be found on display at Gates of Harlow, you will find an extensive stock of up to 150 used cars to choose from with instant access to group used stocks of up to 500 vehicles including Ford Direct. In addition, there will be expanded customer facilities from the fully equipped Service department, MOT Class IV testing station, including enhanced delivery/collection services, particularly from the Waltham Cross area, and increased availability of courtesy cars. Gates of Harlow also has a comprehensive Parts and Accessory department. Genuine Ford Parts and accessories are also available to purchase online from www.gatesfordparts.co.uk.

Gates have been a family owned and operated business for nearly 95 years, so we are particularly pleased to report that all of our employees at Waltham Cross will be transferring to either Harlow or offered alternative positions within the Group, so there will be plenty of familiar faces around.

For more information, please contact Gates of Epping on 01992 280125, Gates of Hertford on 01992 662893 or Gates of Harlow on 01279 216643.

Driver and Vehicle
 Licensing Agency

End of the road
for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
 That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
 A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own

Oliver's army helps Essex soar in inter counties

OLIVER Brooker helped the Essex U-8 team to a brilliant victory in an East of England inter regional tournament at the weekend.

Harlow Lawn Tennis Club's Oliver was part of the team that comprehensively beat Hertfordshire 5-1 in the final.

Harlow club-mate Charlotte Pressley represented the Essex U-8 girls team but they lost to a Hertfordshire team which went on to win their competition.

Eleven counties involving a total of 120 players took part in the competition, held at the Gosling High Performance Tennis Centre in Welwyn Garden City.

The boys set off impressively, beating Berkshire, Buckinghamshire, Suffolk and Oxfordshire.

Topping their group, the Essex Eagles then beat Northants in the semi-final before conquering Herts in the final.

Oliver, seeded number two in the team, played his part superbly, winning five of his six matches against some outstanding opponents and showed maturity way above his age in beating his opponents.

The girls tournament saw the Essex team win their first three matches.

Finishing second in their group they lost to a strong Hertfordshire team that went on to win the tournament and then narrowly lost the 3rd/4th play-off to Cambridgeshire.

Charlotte starred in the team, playing some of her best tennis to date and winning five of her six matches.

Both Oliver and Charlotte train at HLTTC at Latton Bush in the U-8 academy under the watchful eye of coaches Will Calvert, Karen Lewis and Luke Spooner.

Brandon's great outdoor start

FOURTEEN-year old Mark Hall student Brandon Shibchurn started his outdoor season in great style.

After a promising indoor season which saw him ranked second in the East Region over 60 metres, he recorded 7.55 seconds for the U-15 boys category.

In his age group Brandon produced two excellent victories; in the 100m he clocked 11.66s and in the 200m he recorded 24.19s, which placed him in the top 10 in the UK, a terrific achievement at this early stage of the season.

Meanwhile, two Harlow school pupils made the trip over to South West London and came away with great results from a meeting that is known as the second largest young athletes meeting after the English Schools Championships.

On a windy day, Rosie Poole (14) contested the U-17 girls 1,500m and out of a field of 12 runners the Stewards pupil finished second in 5.04, a solid opening time for the youngster.

After playing football for his team in the morning, Albie Wickenden (10), a Kingsmoor Academy student, was fourth in the U-11 boys 1,000m in 3.30, again from a large field.

Also competing for the very first time on the track was Daisy Poole (8). The Water Lane pupil ran 2.34 in the 600m to take 10th spot.

Karim in top 20 per cent at Greater Manchester Marathon

SAIRA Karim finished in 1,869th place out of more than 10,000 finishers at the Greater Manchester Marathon.

The Harlow Running Club member clocked an excellent 3 hours, 44 minutes and 5 seconds in her debut at the distance.

At the Brighton Marathon, all in their debut at the distance, Andrew Barnard finished in 4:10.11, Ben Barnard clocked 4:20.33 and Santosh Kumar recorded 4:32.38.

At the Paris Marathon, Andy Kinney finished in 38,100th place out of 39,115 finishers in 5:44.58.

Meanwhile at the Cambourne 10K, in Cambridgeshire, Janice Page finished in 322nd place out of 940 finishers in a superb 51.14.

She was followed home by Debbie Barry (379th in 53.15), Michelle Aitken (461st in a personal best time for the distance of 55.40), Debbie Smith (469th in 55.55), Jane Evans (509th in 57.02 PB), Joy Hale (521st in 57.31) and Vicky Calver (755th in 64.46 PB).

At the Flitwick 10K in Bedfordshire, Sean Flynn was 131st out of 631 finishers in an excellent 38.28.

Robin Lozeau finished in 80th place out of 347 finishers at the Chelmsford Park run 5K in a PB equalling 22.44. He was followed by David Page 119th in 23.59 and Janice Page, 120th and first Lady Vet 50 in 24.00.

At the Gunpowder Park run 5K at Waltham Abbey, Jason Haigh was 18th out of 130 finishers in a superb 20.25. He was followed by Paul Lee, 37th in his debut at the distance in 22.16 and Celia Haigh, 93rd in 28.44.

Retiring Dobson rounds off with a try and a win

Harlow43
Wymondham26
(RFU London, div three north east)

MICHAEL Dobson finished his Harlow career on a happy note as the Rams beat lowly Wymondham 43-26 in their last London division three north east home game of the season.

The sturdy fly-half scored a try and retired after Saturday's game as he is unavailable for the Rams last game at Canvey Island in two days.

Harlow's head coach Lee Harron said: "He has trained regularly and is a very positive guy. He is a good role model.

"He could break a tackle and his game management was good."

He added: "His wife has recently had a baby and they both have busy jobs so I can see why he is stopping."

The crowd of more than 200 on Saturday was treated to an expansive game which saw 11 tries being scored by Harlow and Wymondham.

The hosts went ahead in the 10th minute when a line-out move resulted in scrum-half Ryan McGlone touching down for an unconverted try. Harlow's second and third tries came in quick succession midway through the half as centres Neil McMullen and Luke Bowering broke through to touch down.

Kurtis Knightley kicked two conversions and the Rams led 19-0.

The Norfolk side pulled a try back when their fly-half made a very good interception to score a try that was converted.

The Rams increased their lead on 50 minutes when hooker Mark Bowering broke to touch down and Knightley kicked the conversion.

Rams flanker Josh Drake then scored another try before the visitors got two tries from a prop and hooker.

Both were converted by Knightley as Harlow's lead was cut to 31-21.

Dobson then scored a brilliant solo try as he beat two defenders and this was converted by Knightley.

The hosts conceded an unconverted try before McGlone scored a second try.

Harrow added: "We put some decent moves possession together but we have to cut out the mistakes."

HARLOW: Ephgrave, M. Bowering (Cunningham 50), Stonehouse, Twiner, Palmer, Roberts, Drake (Hawkins 60), Eynon, McGlone, Dobson, Grimley, L. Bowering (Webb 75), McMullen, Knightley, Mackie.

Rams' Dutch of class

HARLOW Rugby Club first XV player Kurtis Knightley, has been selected to represent Essex U-20s squad against a Holland international team.

The 18-year-old centre, right, will be travelling to Holland on May 2 to play for the Essex team in a match against the Dutch U-20 side.

The match, scheduled for Saturday May 2, will be staged at the National Rugby Centrum, Amsterdam.

Knightley has established himself in the Harlow first XV this season, where his speed makes him a powerful player in attack.

He is also a skilled place kicker and has taken over full-time kicking duties this season now that full-back Michael Dobson has retired (see story above).

Read equals scoring record

ALEX Read drew level with Jeff Wood's 25-year record when he struck a brilliant goal to give Harlow Town a 1-0 win at Aveley in Ryman League division one north on Saturday.

Read's goal came in the 49th minute when his superb free-kick from just outside the box went into the top corner.

It brought Read's tally to an astonishing 44 goals this term, equalling Wood's record in the 1988/89 campaign.

Prior to Read scoring, Harlow created chances in the first half hour but were unable to put any away.

On 10 minutes, Leon Antoine's powerful shot was kept out and saved by the home keeper Kalin Arpakied.

However, it was so powerful that Arpakied was winded and needed treatment before he could continue.

Then Harlow left-back Layne Eadie fired over when well placed on 27 minutes.

However, the hosts wasted two chances at the other end when forward Kyle Asante broke through twice and shot wide both times.

The pitch was bobbly and not conducive to attractive football.

There were no further goals as the visitors held on to a precious three points.

It was not the prettiest win but it cemented Harlow's position in third spot.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman praised Read.

He said: "It's unbelievable. I knew what he was capable of. I knew in a side playing the way we play, I knew he would get a stack of goals."

"Anyone who scores that amount of goals at any level of football, that's quite an achievement."

"I would be massively surprised if he does not break the record."

Chapman felt this was a game where his side just needed to grind out the result. "That's not the nicest place to go. It was a horrible game to watch. We just needed the three points and to keep winning, it was not really about the performance. It's about the points."

HARLOW TN: Knowles, Barnard, Eadie, Urquhart, Blewitt, Muguo, Dadson (Martin 74), J. Smith (G. Smith 85), Read, Antoine (Glowacki 65), Stamp. Subs not used: McKenzie, Thompson.

Att: 103.

Gabriella named in England side

HARLOW'S Gabriella Cowley is among a six-strong England Golf squad which will compete in the French Lady Junior Championship at St Cloud, near Paris, from April 17-21.

The Hanbury Manor Golf & Country Club (Ware) member joins Annabel Dimmock, Alex Peters, Sophie Keech, Sammy Fuller and Sophie Lamb in the England women's team.

This U-21 championship is one of the most prestigious in Europe and always attracts a strong field of leading players, whose places in the tournament are determined by their position in the World Amateur Golf Ranking.

The full field will play two rounds of stroke play qualifying before the leading 32 players go forward to the match play stages of the Esmond Trophy.

The next best 16 players aged under 18 will contest the Cartier Trophy which was won last year by England's Bronte Law.

Cowley, 18, was runner-up in this year's Portuguese Amateur Championship. She won the England Golf girls' order of merit for 2013.

Pioneer Butt helping Bash put Pakistan on rugby map

BY ALAN SCOTT

alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FORMER Passmores School student Mobashar Mahmood is relishing his role putting Pakistan on the rugby map, and has paid tribute to his mentor former Leeds Rhinos Rugby League star Ikram Butt and the help he has given him during his career to date.

The Harlow Rugby Club member, who will feature for two international teams' tours next month, looks up to Ikram as a role model who has helped transform his career in both rugby union and rugby league.

Dual-code star Ikram became the first British Asian to represent England when he made his international debut in 1995.

Loose head prop Mahmood (25), from Summers in Harlow, has represented Pakistan at both rugby union and rugby league.

Known as 'Bash', he has also represented the British Asian Rugby Association (BARA), founded by Ikram.

Mahmood first got to know Ikram when both men featured in charity matches.

Ikram enjoyed a top professional career in rugby league. Along with the Rhinos the wing has played for Featherstone Rovers, Huddersfield and London Broncos.

Mahmood said: "Ikram has supported my rugby. When I first contacted BARA he got me involved with many projects.

"Ikram has provided me with lots of encouragement and invaluable advice and has followed my career ever since."

Mahmood will join up with the Pakistan rugby union team for the Asian 5 Nations tournament in May.

Pakistan will compete in a group with teams from Lebanon, Laos and Uzbekistan.

Other teams taking part in the tournament are Japan, India, South Korea, the Philippines, UAE and

Hong Kong.

"This tour was part funded as unfortunately Pakistan Rugby League are not heavily funded," Mahmood explained.

Mahmood has also represented the Pakistan RL team, making his international debut for this side against the UAE in Dubai in November last year.

"I have now been selected to go on tour with BARA to play in another international fixture against Spain," he said.

This will be his fifth appearance for the BARA team.

"Due to lack of funds this tour will have to be self funded so am looking for sponsorship and support."

Ikram has been hugely impressed with Mahmood during his career.

He is now the star player for the BARA team.

Ikram told the Star: "As we celebrate our 10-year anniversary we are delighted to see players like Bash who have continued to excel in the supportive environment that we provide. With Bash, we could see he already had the passion and desire to succeed. We were able to instil in him the self-belief and convince him that he had all the ingredients to go far in the game."

"At BARA, we regard Bash as one of our ambassadors and a fine role model, who is just as professional on as well as off the field."

Mahmood has now signed for Luton RFC and is still hopeful of progressing up the professional ladder even further.

Although rugby is not traditionally too popular among British Asians, Mahmood would encourage youngsters to follow his lead and try out the sport, rather than take up the more popular sports of cricket and football.

"I got into rugby union when I was 16 and played for my school, Passmores, then within weeks moved to play for Harlow Rugby Club for the under 16s, 17s and Colts, and then broke through to the first team for the first couple games of the season only as I had to move to Birmingham for university," he explained.

If you can help Mahmood with sponsorship contact him via email at mobashar.mahmood@hotmail.com

By George, he's won English Champs gold medal

GEORGE Watkinson returned triumphantly from the English Tae Kwon Do Championships with a gold medal.

Eight students from the Harlow Tae Kwon Do Club competed in the English Championships, held in Worcester, either competing in sparring, pattern event or both.

Watkinson, who will take his black belt grading in October, was in the red belt lightweight cadet division for the first time and was up against some very tough competitors.

Harlow Tae Kwon Do Club chief instructor Mick Sullivan said: "He fought three rounds, winning all of them and coming away with the gold trophy."

Jag Molines, who is also due to take his black belt grading in October, fought hard in the boys' red belt lightweight division and came away with a silver.

Gold was also won by Ryan Brown, Jag Molines and Kalani Bassi for tag sparring after some very exciting battles. Ryan also joined up with two players from another club to seal a team bronze medal.

Sullivan said: "I can honestly say that in previous competitions the lads have held back a little, sometimes being a little wary of physical injuries but this time all of them have found the inner confidence that they have worked so hard for, none of them held back and had the urge to win.

"Well done also to Parriys Alphous, Kalani Bassi, Andrea Danila and Gabriele Danila for entering the competition and even though they did not return with any trophies, did themselves and the club proud."

Harlow Tae Kwon Do now train at Paringdon Sports Club on Mondays, Wednesdays and Sundays and also at Leventhorpe Sports Centre on Thursdays and Saturdays. Contact Mick Sullivan, 3rd Dan Instructor, on 07850 230667 for more information.

International clearance for midfielder signing

HARLOW Town gained international clearance to complete the signing of midfielder Claudio Lorenzani, who could be handed his debut tonight (Thursday April 10) away to title-chasing Witham Town.

Club secretary Ray Dyer had to apply for international clearance through the FA, as the 20-year-old has been playing for Marks Park Rangers in South Africa.

After various phone calls to and from South Africa and the FA, the completed paperwork came in just before the deadline.

Lorenzani had trained with the Hawks before he signed.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "We knew about him through Perry Sutcliffe [a coach at Tottenham]. He will be a good addition to the squad."

The Hawks head into tonight's Ryman League division one north match knowing victory will leave them six points behind second-placed Witham with five games left to play. Both teams will have then played 41 games.

Harlow are third but might still need to win as many as four of their last six games to be assured of a place in the end-of-season play-offs.

Witham chairman Tony Last has accused Harlow of having an unfair advantage in the promotion race because of their 3G pitch, but Chapman said: "As far as their chairman goes, he has his opinion, but I am not interested in it."

Chapman is urging his players to stay strong ahead of the critical run-in.

"All we have to do is worry about ourselves. If we can beat them tomorrow that will put us closer and the closer you get, then the more pressure you can put on them. There is no pressure on us.

"We go there on the back of five really good wins and we are full of confidence."

Harlow then host Cheshunt on Saturday, and Chapman is concerned about complacency.

"Those games can be harder than when you play the games against the top teams. We just need to get Witham out of the way. But that [Cheshunt] is another game we need to get a win from.

"The teams underneath us are putting pressure on us, but that's what it's all about."

Defender Robbie Martin (thigh) was on the bench for the 1-0 win against Aveley as he makes his comeback from a long injury spell.

Skipper Darren Blewitt, winger Junior Dadson and striker Leon Antone are battling flu.

Alex Read will break the club's 25-year-old goalscoring record if he nets in either the Witham or Cheshunt matches. He is currently level with Jeff Wood on 44 after an incredible season for the striker.

New English champ boxes clever for pup

IT might have been more apt if he had received a boxer dog for clinching a brilliant victory in the English ABA National Schoolboy Championships, but 13-year-old Georgie Ellis was certainly delighted with the cocker poo puppy which was his reward from his parents for beating the best young pugilists in the country.

Competing in the new 29.5kgs category, Georgie, from Churchgate Street, produced a superb TKO (technical knock out) to defeat Kane Holiday, from the renowned Birtley ABC based in the North East, in the third round of their bout at the national finals in Huddersfield, Yorkshire last Sunday.

And after promising his son a puppy if he triumphed, Georgie's father Greg kept his word and the family picked up their new member of the family, Goldie, earlier this week.

"It was a one-off opportunity for him. He had to win it this year to get the puppy," joked Greg.

Georgie, a student at Sawbridgeworth's Leventhorpe School who boxes at the Repton ABC, had beaten the tournament favourite James Josling (Chadwell St Mary's, Kent) in a terrific semi-final at Feltham College in Middlesex.

This was by an unanimous verdict after three great rounds.

He shattered the unbeaten record of Josling, who had beaten Georgie when the two boys met in a competitive bout when the Essex youngster first started boxing at East London's renowned Repton club before Christmas.

Josling had previously won all eight contests, holding an unblemished record – until his rematch with Georgie.

JUST CHAMPION:
English champ Georgie Ellis with his new puppy Goldie (Pic: Vikki Lince)

He won an unanimous verdict against Josling after three one-and-a-half minute rounds.

Georgie, of Elmbridge, then met Holiday, a much taller opponent, in the final a week later.

"Georgie says he prefers fighting a taller boy as he can get through with his body shots. That is his advantage," explained Greg.

His opponent received a standing eight count in round two.

"As the count was over it was the end of the round but the boy had not recovered and as they came out for the third round the ref had seen enough," said Greg.

Georgie has previously boxed at Harlow ABC and Bishop's Stortford ABC. He is now coached at Repton by a team including Lee Hedges, who was previously at Bishop's Stortford ABC.

Greg added: "Georgie has got a lot of respect for all his previous coaches, at Harlow and Bishop's Stortford. He does appreciate all their help."

Georgie's feat competed an incredible night for Repton, as they surpassed a 30-year-old record. Out of 13 finalists the club has eight national champions.

A Repton club spokesman said: "Under the guidance of head coach Bob Beck senior and his team of trainers, our lads have shown dedication, motivation and supreme ability in the gym and it has paid off big time.

Hawks aim to end season on a high as play-offs loom

HAWKS will be aiming to end the Herts Basketball League season on a high with a victory away to North Herts Knights tonight (Thursday April 9) as they look to cement a top three finish and head into the end-of-season play-offs brimming with confidence.

This followed a 76-51 victory for Shab Niaz's men in the final home league game of the season against Hitchin Kings.

Hawks started slowly and only scored six points in the first eight minutes.

It was a match to remember for Hawks' youngest senior player Dave Griffin. He scored eight points out of 14 for the quarter with two three pointers and a field goal.

Alex Hinds (2), Rimantas Norkeliunas and Russ Stonehouse also scored as Hawks led 14-7.

Hitchin found gaps in the Hawks' defence and reduced the lead to two points by the fifth minute of the second quarter.

The Hawks then went on an 18-0 run with points from Stonehouse, Tom White, Griffin and top scorer Norkeliunas to lead by 14 points (32-18).

Hinds added eight points from a total 22 points for the quarter.

Hawks' defence was also impressive, keeping the Kings' scoring in the quarter to single digits by the seventh minute.

Griffin scored his third three-pointer of the game this quarter to cap off a great evening and a total 13 points for the match.

In this quarter White caught another fast break dunk – his second in as many games.

Hawks took an 18 point lead into the fourth quarter, up 54-36.

Harlow scored at will in the final quarter. Lee Morris, Saul Friedner and Richard Whytock added points as Niaz used his bench wisely as Harlow finished the match 25 points ahead.

HARLOW: Norkeliunas 15 points, Hinds 13, Griffin 13, Stonehouse 10, Allan 8, White 6, Morris 5, Lenihan 2, Whytock 2, Friedner 2, Martin 0, Jones 0.
